Greg Hire

Greg Hire is the former vice captain of the Perth Wildcats, a mental health advocate, and the 2018 West Australian of the Year Youth Award recipient. In 2014, he founded A Stitch in Time, a mental health awareness organisation. A Stitch in Time delivers workshops aimed at educating participants on the significance of fostering positive psychological well-being, whilst also providing strategies to navigate periods of uncertainty, change, and adversity.

Stephen Kenner

Stephen Kenner has led the WA Industrial Relations Commission as Chief Commissioner since May 2021, and is a long-standing member of the Commission, having been appointed to the bench of the Industrial Commission by the Western Australian Government in March 1998. Prior to this, he worked as an advocate, solicitor and then a partner in national law firm Mallesons Stephen Jaques. He has also lectured at the University of Western Australia and University of Notre Dame.

Heather Millar

Heather Millar's practice specialises in employment law, contractual disputes, industrial relations, and health and safety. Her work also covers commercial disputes, discrimination, wage underpayment, and negligence claims before disciplinary tribunals. Heather regularly appears in hearings and appeals in the Federal Court and the Full Federal Court, as well as the Federal and State employment jurisdictions.

Erika Everitt

Erika Everitt is a passionate and experienced Community Development Practitioner. With over a decade of experience in Local Government, she is dedicated to fostering inclusive communities. Erika has led the rollout of the Sunflower Hidden Disability Initiative, a program designed to help staff recognise and better support community members with hidden disabilities.

Jethro George

Jethro George has worked across Local Government, business and not-for-profit organisations. His roles focused on disability support, hospitality, telecommunications, housing, community development, and organisational leadership. He has experience leading teams, coordinating programs, and supporting inclusive practices in both metropolitan and regional settings. He is passionate about improving access to employment and services for people with disabilities.

Myreesa

Before her accident, Myreesa worked as an instructor at an adventure camp, teaching activities such as abseiling, mountain biking, and canoeing – always with safety top of mind. Four years later, she sustained a spinal cord injury while working at a daycare centre. Risk had always been part of her lifestyle, but she never imagined experiencing a life-changing injury in the workplace. Myreesa will share her lived experience during the panel session.

Georgia Miller

Georgia has over 15 years' experience in occupational rehabilitation and disability employment services. With a background as a qualified occupational therapist, she has built a strong clinical foundation to help people with disability achieve their vocational goals. She is the National Manager for JobAccess, which is the national hub of workplace and employment information for people with disability, employers and service providers.

Philippa Lonie

Philippa Lonie is an experienced Human Resources professional, employment lawyer and licenced Investigator. She is the Founder and Director of Green Shoots, a workplace solutions business specialising in trauma-informed investigations, HR consulting, and workplace rehabilitation. Driven by a commitment to enhancing workplace culture, Philippa is passionate about helping businesses improve workforce engagement and productivity to help people thrive at work.
