ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF COUNTRY

Reconciliation WA acknowledges and pays our deepest respect to the Whadjuk People of the Noongar Nation and their Elders – past and present: the Traditional Owners of the boodja (land) on which we live and work. We acknowledge the First Nations Peoples across Western Australia, the continuity of their cultural, educational and spiritual practices, and their deep and ongoing connection to land, waterways and sky.

ON BEHALF OF THE BOARD, WELCOME TO RECONCILIATION WA'S PROGRAM FOR NATIONAL RECONCILIATION WEEK (NRW) 2024.

The theme for NRW this year is Now More Than Ever. It is an incredibly strong message and reminder to all of us that as reconciliation supporters, we must stand up and take on our important roles as strong allies, amplifying the voices of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples.

As we stand together in solidarity during NRW, we must recommit to the powerful movement of reconciliation in WA. We all have a part to play in shaping a reconciled future and being a positive force for change - through the language we use, how we treat each other, how we work together and how we respect and support each other.

Thank you.

Nolan Hunter and Debra Zanella
Co-Chairs, Reconciliation WA

IT IS AN HONOUR TO PRESENT TO YOU OUR 2024 NATIONAL RECONCILIATION WEEK GUIDE.

Now more than ever, we need to tackle the unfinished business of reconciliation and stand in solidarity as we recommit to the powerful movement of reconciliation in WA.

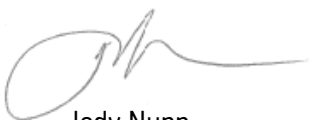

No matter where you live and work across WA, this year's NRW program is filled with so many opportunities to demonstrate solidarity and action.

Firstly, the Reconciliation Breakfast events present a wonderful opportunity for the entire state to join together in-person (or virtually for those further afar) at our flagship event at Optus Stadium or at your choice of three regional locations - Albany, Karratha and Newman.

We're also very pleased to bring back our Yarns and Memoirs, and strongly encourage you to join us and show strength in numbers at our powerful Walks for Reconciliation in Perth, Bunbury and Port Hedland.

It is a delight to honour Carol Innes as we share her Reconciliation Memoirs this year, after she recently stepped down as our Co-Chair.

On behalf of the Reconciliation WA team, volunteers and partners, thank you for taking the time to get involved this year. We appreciate your contribution and support, now more than ever, as we stand in solidarity and recommit to reconciliation across WA.

Jody Nunn
CEO, Reconciliation WA

NRW PARTNERS 2024 RECONCILIATION REFLECTIONS

EMILY ROPER PSM
DIRECTOR GENERAL
DEPARTMENT OF THE PREMIER AND CABINET

Department of the Premier and Cabinet

The Department of the Premier and Cabinet are proud of our partnership with Reconciliation WA following our renewed commitment in 2023 for a further four-year partnership.

Now more than ever, all levels of government and our partners need to embrace reconciliation and ensure genuine engagement with Aboriginal people and communities. The Aboriginal Empowerment Strategy guides state government in contributing to better outcomes for Aboriginal people, built around genuine partnerships, strong accountability, and culturally responsive ways of working.

PROFESSOR PETER KLINKEN AC FAHMS FTSE CITWA
CHAIR
LOTTERYWEST AND HEALTHWAY

In 2024, Lotterywest and Healthway launched our 'Reflect' Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP). Through collaboration with staff and local Elders, it defines our commitment to advancing reconciliation both from within our organisation and our sphere of influence. While Lotterywest and Healthway have a long and proud history of supporting Aboriginal people, communities and culture through our grants, the launch of our RAP formalises our commitment to reconciliation in Australia.

This year's theme of 'Now More Than Ever' is particularly fitting as we seek to embrace and encourage all efforts in advancing reconciliation through our own actions as an organisation, and through positive and supportive grant-making.

CHRISTINE SINDELY
MANAGER INDIGENOUS ENGAGEMENT
BHP

Reconciliation is a transformative process that holds immense importance in advocating for the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. As proud supporters of Reconciliation WA, BHP actively encourages stakeholders to speak out against racism and amplify the voices of First Nations peoples.

Many individuals voted in favour during the 2023 referendum and as a business we continue to advocate for justice, as well as strengthen our relationships with Traditional Owner partners and their communities.

In our 2023-27 Reconciliation Action Plan, BHP made a commitment to being a leader in advancing national reconciliation and fostering a more equitable Australia.

BHP proudly stands alongside Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, advocating for a sustainably shared, inclusive, and equitable future for all Australians.

RECONCILIATION IS A TRANSFORMATIVE PROCESS THAT HOLDS IMMENSE IMPORTANCE IN ADVOCATING FOR THE RIGHTS OF ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER PEOPLES

KELLY O'ROURKE
CHIEF LEGAL AND EXTERNAL AFFAIRS OFFICER
SOUTH32

Every year, across our Australian operations and locations, we proudly celebrate and promote National Reconciliation Week. It's one of the ways we create opportunities for our people and communities to come together to learn and respect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples' histories, cultures, and achievements.

Given the outcome of the Indigenous Voice to Parliament referendum, it's now more important than ever that, as a nation, we work collectively towards making a real and lasting impact on reconciliation and supporting all Australians.

Together, we can make a difference.

ROB SCOTT
MANAGING DIRECTOR
WESFARMERS

Reconciliation has been important at Wesfarmers for more than 20 years. Our vision is for an Australia that affords equal and equitable opportunities for all, recognising that stronger communities offer our businesses opportunities to succeed. We want Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to feel welcome in our businesses as team members, customers, suppliers, and visitors.

This vision guides Wesfarmers' Indigenous affairs strategy, including our Elevate RAP, which publicly commits us to specific, measurable and timebound actions. This action, #NowMoreThanEver, is critical as the work of reconciliation continues. Wesfarmers is a proud partner of Reconciliation WA and supporter of National Reconciliation Week.

TONY CUDMORE
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT STRATEGY AND CLIMATE
WOODSIDE

Undoubtedly, 2023 was a challenging year for the reconciliation community. Woodside recognises the importance of ensuring Indigenous voices are heard and has reflected this in our RAP. The Referendum result has not impacted our commitment to continue our reconciliation journey with our Indigenous employees, partners and the community more broadly.

Continuing to listen, learn, and work together toward reconciliation is crucial. By ensuring that First Nations perspectives are considered, not only does Woodside enhance its own organisational understanding and effectiveness, but it also contributes to the broader societal goal of fostering greater equality and understanding.

CONTINUING TO LISTEN, LEARN, AND WORK TOGETHER TOWARD RECONCILIATION IS CRUCIAL.

NATIONAL RECONCILIATION WEEK

National Reconciliation Week (NRW) is a time for all Australians to learn about our shared histories, cultures, and achievements, and to explore how each of us can contribute to achieving reconciliation in Australia.

The dates for NRW are the same each year – 27 May to 3 June. They commemorate two significant milestones in reconciliation: the successful 1967 referendum and the High Court Mabo decision.

27 May 1967

On this day, Australia's most successful referendum saw more than 90 per cent of Australians vote to give the Australian Government power to make laws for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples and recognize them in the Census.

3 June 1992

On this day, The Australian High Court's Mabo decision recognized Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples as the Traditional Owners and Custodians of lands, culminating Eddie Koiki Mabo's challenge to the legal fiction of 'terra nullius'.

Reconciliation must live in the hearts, minds and actions of all Australians as we move forward, creating a national strengthened by respectful relationships between the wider Australian community, and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples.

NOW MORE THAN EVER

National Reconciliation Week's theme for 2024, Now More Than Ever, is a reminder to all of us that no matter what, the fight for justice and the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people will - and must - continue.

Now more than ever, we need to tackle the unfinished business of reconciliation. We know that the 6.2 million Australians who voted YES are committed to better outcomes for First Nations people and are with us.

Now more than ever, the work continues. We need connection. We need respect. We need action. And we need change. Now more than ever, we need reconciliation.

STREET BANNERS AND MERCHANDISE

Thanks to the support and sponsorship of participating organisations, hundreds of Reconciliation Week banners in prominent locations across Western Australia fly proud and high each year featuring a chosen artwork by a Western Australian Aboriginal Artist.

We're excited to offer our 2024 collection of merchandise showcasing Renita Brown Nungurrayi's street banner artwork. Renita paints Mina Mina, a significant women's Dreaming site, as passed down to her by her mother, Flora Brown Nakamarra who received it from her mother, and so on. The collection includes tea towels, tote bags, gift cards, lanyards and posters. Funds from each sale go directly to the 2024 Street Banner Program Artist and supports 2024 NRW Programming. Don't miss this opportunity to show your support for the artist and the reconciliation movement.

CULTURAL SAFETY AND ACCESSIBILITY

PREPARING YOUR NRW EVENT AND CULTURAL SAFETY

Cultural safety is about creating an environment that is safe for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. When an event is Culturally safe, First Nations Peoples feel their Cultural knowledge, beliefs and practices are valued and respected.

There are many Nations across WA and each Nation has its own customs and community structures, but the first step is to have a good understanding of the following protocols and when they are appropriate to include: Welcome to Country, Acknowledgment of Country, acknowledgement of Elders, and acknowledgements of local sites of significance. It is also important to assist Elders if needed in attending your event safely, for example by providing taxi vouchers or other transport and accessibility support. You can find some resources on these protocols in our Digital Kit.

Reach out to a Language/Cultural Centre, your local Council, University or Aboriginal Land and Sea Council to build relationships with your local community, and be willing to give financial compensation for the time and valuable knowledge shared.

ACCESSIBILITY

Creating accessible events promotes inclusivity and diversity, making everyone feel welcomed and valued. By considering accessibility requirements, event organisers can ensure that events are enjoyable and accessible for all attendees.

Planning accessible events not only meets legal requirements but also creates an environment that fosters inclusivity and celebrates diversity, and everyone benefits by having more voices at the table.

For example, offering braille, large print materials, and/or Auslan interpreters, accommodating dietary needs, and providing accessible seating options enhance the experience for everyone. By planning accessible events, event organisers can foster a welcoming and inclusive environment that promotes diversity and ensures equal access for all.
