

Local Government Support for Aboriginal Language and Place Names

Thursday, 28 May 2020

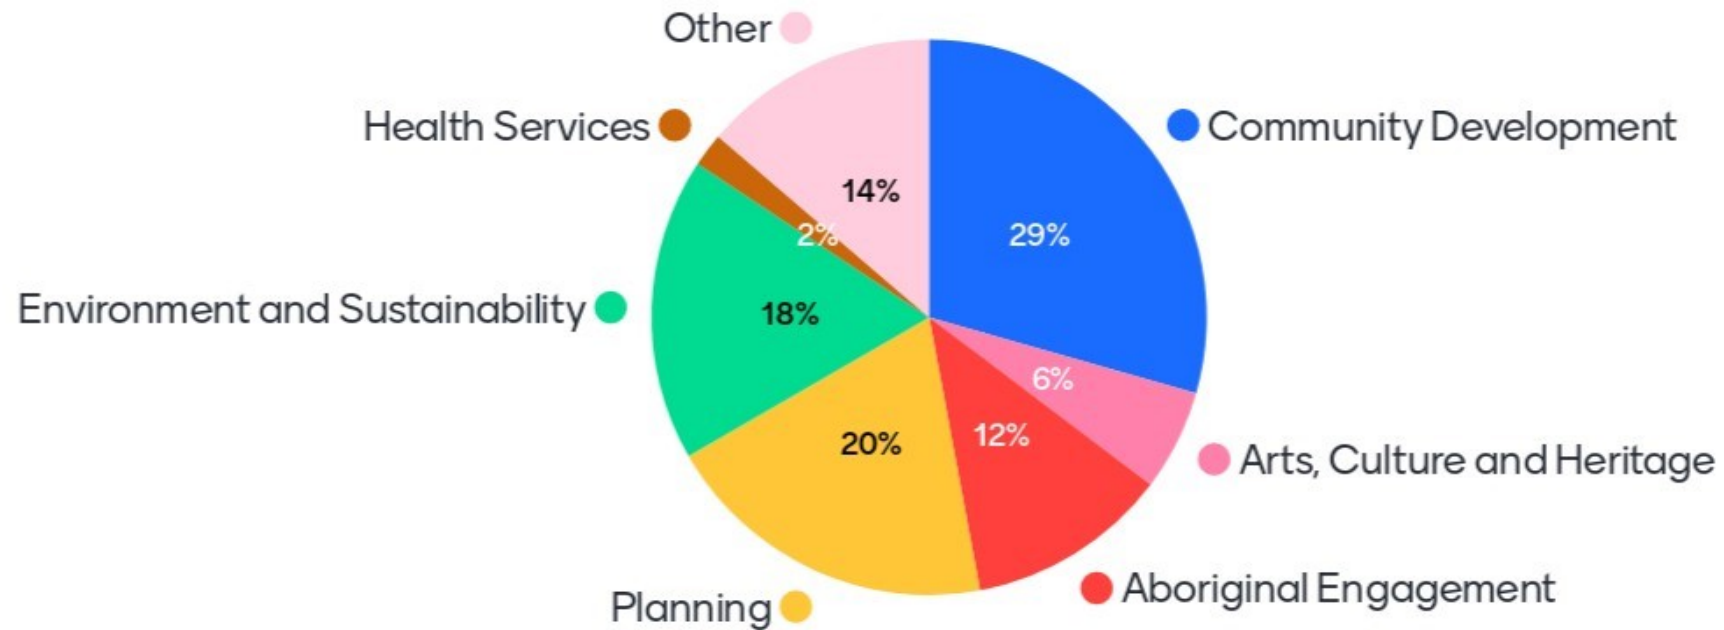

If you could kill any fashion trend for ever, what would it be?

Which Local Government do you work for?

What area do you work in?

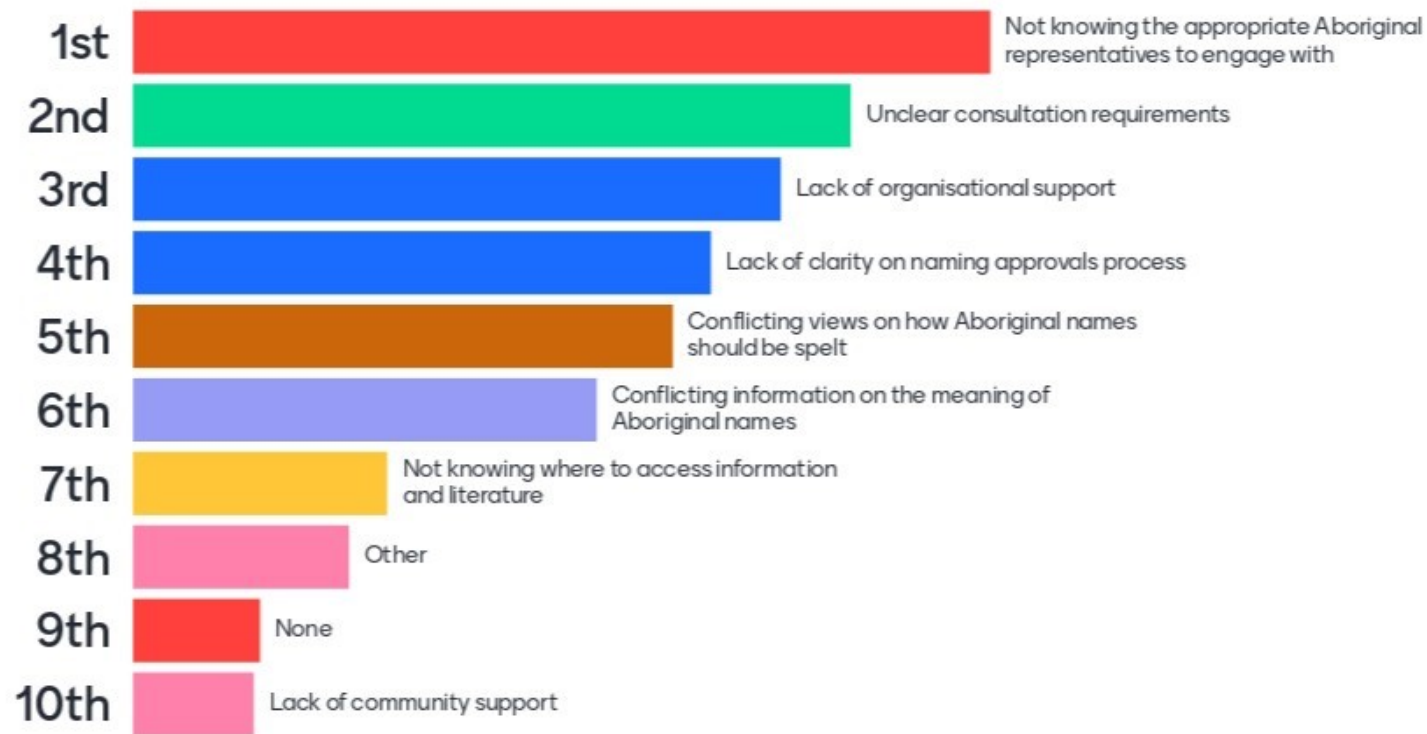

Has your Local Government initiated any of the following projects?

What was the project called?

Have you faced any challenges when undertaking an Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Cultural awareness

Improved relationships

Pride

Collaboration, local pride, shared history, local tourist spot

understanding of local history building better relationships with the Aboriginal community

Learning experience

Community education

acknowledgement of first nations existence

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Building relationships

Relationships

Cultural awareness

Community education regarding place names

Giving respect and acknowledgement as is right to do

Aboriginal youth empowerment

Increased organisational support and interest
Community Education and increased interest and support
Improved relationships
Organisational pride.

Truth telling

Signage

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Esteem for local First Nations' peoples

Reconciliation

Provided more understanding about considerations between culture

Conversation starter, gaps in knowledge highlighted improved engagement, building relationships and better valuing of culture in the broader community

Knowledge, pride, healing, reconciliation and tourism

Builds knowledge for the wider community to understand the history of Midland. Building a good relationship to see more happen across the City of Swan.

Connection

Education

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Wider recognition of local language and culture

Team work across different departments

Reconciliation

Understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal culture and language

Building consensus

Building trust and strong relationships

Shared knowledge of the meaning and history of the area. A small insight in the meaning of a word in an Aboriginal language

Ensuring the business is patient and takes the time necessary to consult and collaborate effectively

Truth telling

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Beginning of cultural connection for whole community

Local knowledge - Aboriginal science

Lot more to do

Increased awareness and building relationships between the local government authority and local indigenous which should help for the indigenous to not feel like we are only ticking a box.

Flora uses

Reconciliation Action Plan Implementations

Moving forward together and healing relationships

Building relationships, educational resources developed, physical interpretation that local Aboriginal community take ownership of and is valued by others.

Relationship building

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

breaking down racist attitudes

Collaboration between LGA business units

Building a better future

Sense of pride in the work

Keen support from industry and both European and Aboriginal culture across so many fields

Involvement and Employment of Aboriginal People a reminder that we were not the traditional landowners and acknowledging those who are

Signage

Beaut model now we need to work out best practice

What were the beneficial outcomes of the Aboriginal or Dual Naming Project?

Sense of achievement and being valued for First Nations' peoples involved over a long period

Funding and guidelines

Introducing increased cultural awareness in a conservative region

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

Funding

Employment

Funding

A guide on the right contacts to consult with

50d positions

Funding, staffing.

Guidelines

Guidance

Funding

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

Clear Landgate processes for dual naming of parks and reserves

Guideline document.

Support

no translation of the place names but good news is a project that we can follow up

Consultation Guidelines

Clear processes from Landgate

Guidelines

Guidelines and contacts

Nyoongar leadership in organisations

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

Training opportunities for elected members who are the decision makers.

Process Mapping

working with an aboriginal reference group to assist with naming within the Shire.

Further training on the naming and approval processes

A list of Indigenous Reference People to assist with naming

Organisational support

Aboriginal people putting forward proposals to initiate the process.

collaborations,

funding

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

Indigenous peoples organisations so that we have one or two centralised organisations we can work with who are open and happy to work with us and progress to reconciliation.

Educate elected members to establish political acceptance deep, and strong community engagement

Team work

staffing

organisational support

Support with community engagement

funding to be able to do projects justice by consulting widely

Support from elected members

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

connecting with solid research

ongoing relationships and building of trust

Yes the partnership agreement sounds very helpful. High level advocacy with developers around incorporating Aboriginal Place/dual names

Funding

partnership agreements

funding

An a-z of how to. Partnerships include in planning scheme somehow??

An cooperation centre for Nyungar places names funded by federal, state and local Govt and business

Community understanding of interactive and sometimes long process

What would help facilitate more Aboriginal or Dual Naming Projects?

Qualified lovely staff

research cooperation

apply work practice

The planning perspective needs to be imbedded in the planning phase and it needs to help raise our people's perspectives as this builds a positive relationship towards the wider community.

Reflection/feedback

